Comex Gold - Continuous Daily April 26

not much technical chart resistance between here and the all time high next resistance level

initial support

Strong buying support in this region is surfacing on dips

Not a whole lot going on today in the gold pit.

Price is remaining above the 10 day moving average which is friendly short term. The remaining moving averages noted on the chart are all rising which is bullish.
