Comex Continuous Gold Daily Chart February 3

Very nice bullish action - price moved down and took out yesterday's low which attracted sizeable buying instead of selling. That took the market up higher and when yesterday's high was breached, shorts began covering. Fresh buying also came in taking price through the second level of resistance near $1350.

We will want to see the 10 day moving average turn higher as well as a good close very soon above the 20 day.
